

Time your investing, not the market

DYNAMIC DOLLAR-COST AVERAGING FUND

Dynamic Dollar-Cost Averaging Fund offers a sound, strategic and systematic way to invest in a variety of Dynamic funds – without the challenge of trying to figure out the best time to invest.

A simple concept

Dollar cost averaging is an investment technique used during volatile markets to help reduce the risk of timing a single-sum investment. By investing a fixed dollar amount in specified Dynamic Funds at regular intervals, the “dollar cost averaging” process helps control the affect of market volatility by smoothing out the average cost per investment unit purchased. Over time, dollar cost averaging can result in a lower average price and a higher capital gain.

Dynamic Dollar-Cost Averaging Funds offers you:

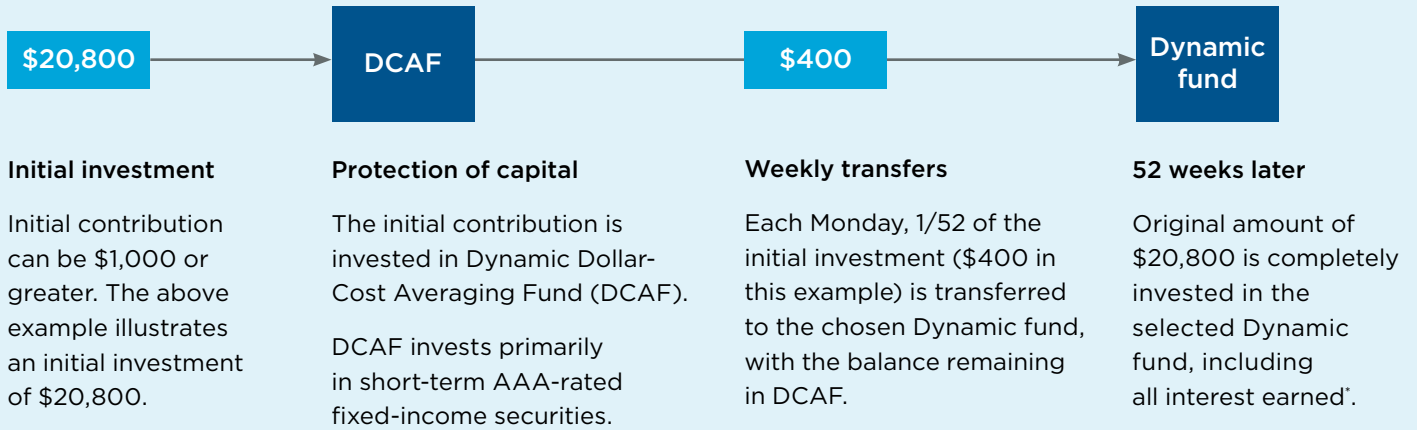

Choice. Choose from a wide selection of award-winning Dynamic funds, including tax-efficient corporate classes for non-registered investment accounts.

Discipline. Because you're continually investing – even in volatile markets – you stay focused on your long-term goals.

Low minimum. You can participate in Dynamic Dollar-Cost Averaging Fund with as little as a $1,000 initial investment.
