Series O units are intended for investors making large investments in a Fund.

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series O units of the Fund. The fees and expenses, including any commissions, can vary among series of the Fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

No sales charges are applicable to the Series O units of the Fund.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the returns of the Series O units of the Fund.

The Series O units of the Fund's expenses are made up of fixed administration fees, trading costs and fund costs. The fixed administration fee is 0.07% of the series' value. Because the Series O units of the Fund are new, the trading costs and fund costs are not yet available.

More about the trailing commission

No trailing commissions are applicable to the Series O units of the Fund.

3. Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you buy, hold, switch, redeem or reclassify units of the Fund.

Fee	What you pay
Switch fee	This fee is negotiated with and paid to your representative's firm to a maximum of 2% of the value of units you switch to another fund.
Short-term trading fee	If you redeem or switch securities within 30 calendar days of purchase or switch we may charge a short-term trading fee of 1% of the prior business day net asset value of the securities you redeem or switch.
Management fee	Management fees are negotiated and paid directly by you to 1832 Asset Management L.P. The management fees for Series O units will not be higher than 1.65%.
